Matters to Be Reported

2025 Business Report

Proposed by the Board

Dear Shareholders:

一、2025 Consolidated Statements

1. Consolidated operating results

The consolidated net operating revenue for the year 2025 was NT$1,284,133 thousand, representing a 37% increase compared to the same period last year. The consolidated gross profit margin was 17%. Consolidated operating income amounted to NT$60,719 thousand, with non-operating net income of NT$49,377 thousand. Net income attributable to owners of the parent was NT$88,994 thousand, resulting in basic earnings per share of NT$1.11.

2. Consolidated financial revenue and expenditure and profitability analysis

	Project	2025	2024
Finance structure	Liabilities to AssetsRatio(%)	10	9
	Ratio of long-term funds tofixed assets(%)	348	343
Debt repayment ability	Current ratio(%)	746	766
	Speed ratio(%)	679	708
	Return on assets(%)	3.96	4.32
Profitability	ROE(%)	4.33	4.72
	Profit rate(%)	7.92	11.77
	Earnings per share(Yuan)	1.11	1.25

Explanation of Financial Structure:

In 2025, the ratio increased slightly compared to the previous year, indicating a modest rise in corporate liabilities. However, there is sufficient long-term funding to support fixed assets, and the overall financial condition remains within a low-risk range.

Explanation of Solvency:

Although the current ratio and quick ratio declined in 2025, both ratios remained above 200%, indicating that the company still maintains sufficient short-term debt repayment capability and strong liquidity. In addition, the return on assets and profitability in 2025 decreased compared to 2024 due to a decline in net profit.

Explanation of Profitability:

Net profit in 2025 declined because the New Taiwan Dollar appreciated against the U.S. Dollar compared to 2024, resulting in a decrease of NT$59,577 thousand in exchange gains from the previous year.

二、 Operations Department and R&D Strategy and Competition1. Semiconductor agent sales operation department outlook strategy and competition.*(1) Semiconductor agent sales market overview

- The new wave of AI technologies is driving demand for high value-added applications such as servers, high-performance edge computing, and high-speed networking equipment. This has increased demand for power units and thermal modules, boosting the performance of the 3PEAK product line.
- Emerging applications such as smart glasses, industrial robots, and in-vehicle intelligent cockpits continue to develop, benefiting the growth of the ABLIC product line.
- Rigid demand for IPCam, automotive rearview cameras, and surround-view imaging applications continues to support stable sales of the Smartsens product line.
- The discontinuation of GMT products and delays in launching new products have weakened product competitiveness, affecting the company's development in the communications market.
- Ongoing U.S. tariff issues and disruptions caused by the Iran conflict are expected to create further market uncertainties, leading to a relatively cautious and conservative outlook for business growth.

(2) Market competition and strategy

- Promote more low-noise, high-voltage/high-current ABLIC high-reliability components that comply with AEC-Q100 standards in the automotive market, while continuing to deepen engagement in the DDR5 RAM market and preparing for significant growth opportunities once supply shortages are resolved.
- Focus on high-volume PC/server/communication power unit and thermal management markets by providing customers with more cost-effective 3PEAK solutions as alternatives to TI and ADI products.

- Establish a dedicated FAE technical team for the GMT product line targeting Wi-Fi 7 and low-earth-orbit (LEO) satellite communication modules, helping shorten customers' R&D timelines and strengthening market development in the communications sector together with suppliers.
- Assist customers in meeting European and U.S. regulatory requirements for sustainable supply chain management, thereby enhancing the distributor's added value and brand positioning in high-end technology markets, while achieving dual growth in both revenue and gross profit.

2. Security monitoring product department operation prospects strategy and competition.

(1) Market trends :

- Geopolitical tensions continue without signs of easing, and resistance toward China-made products remains ongoing. Non-China-made products will continue to dominate under this "political dividend" trend, benefiting the sales growth and business performance of MIT (Made in Taiwan) products.
- Due to gaps left by competitors affected by MIT-related incidents, and the increasing resistance to China-made products in Taiwan's public-sector projects, genuine MIT manufacturers are in a favorable position to secure more project opportunities.
- Rising memory costs caused by supply shortages are unfavorable to the general retail market, where pricing sensitivity is high. As a result, project-based markets will become the primary focus for profitability.
- Tariff uncertainties and industry crowding effects driven by AI memory demand remain market variables. Although the surveillance industry continues to represent rigid demand, HDD shortages and sharply rising material costs pose challenges to sales growth.

(2) Product research and development :

- Strengthen the Taiwan-made chipset product portfolio by adopting a dual-track strategy of outsourced and in-house development, accelerating the expansion of the NOVA product line to capture opportunities arising from political dividend markets.
- Obtain CNS 16120 cybersecurity certification for products in order to secure additional government project opportunities generated by MIT-related developments in Taiwan.
- Develop differentiated specialty products such as security keys, LPR systems, and industrial safety monitoring controllers to help system integrators secure projects through differentiated specifications, while enhancing brand value and increasing customer loyalty.
- Expand the high-end IP and peripheral product portfolio, including PTZ cameras, fisheye cameras, 180-degree cameras, and IP speakers, to satisfy customers' one-stop procurement needs and strengthen long-term cooperation.

(3) Operation and sales strategy :

- Accelerate the completion of the MIT network camera product lineup and focus on expanding market share in politically favorable regions such as North America, Taiwan, and Japan. Growth in revenue will be driven by the dual core product lines of analog recorders and network cameras.
- Introduce non-surveillance products targeting the same customer base, such as POE switches, LPR systems, and IP speakers, to broaden the product portfolio and accelerate revenue growth.
- Optimize product specifications to reduce memory usage and costs, thereby mitigating the impact of rising DRAM and raw material prices, while strengthening price competitiveness and maintaining market share growth.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

The Key Audit Matters refer to those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of AV TECH Corporation, Ltd. for the year ended 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole and in forming our audit opinion, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The key audit matter identified in the Company's financial statements for the year ended 2025 is described as follows:

Authenticity of specific sales revenue from investment subsidiaries using the equity method

The Company holds subsidiaries invested using the equity method for the year ended December 31, 2025 operating income, the sales income from specific customers of electronic materials is significant to the overall operating income. Therefore, the authenticity of the sales income from these specific customers is listed as a key verification matter.

For explanations of accounting policies related to sales revenue, please refer to Note 4 to the consolidated financial statements.

The main verification procedures performed by our accountants on the authenticity of the specific sales revenue mentioned above are as follows:

1. The design and implementation effectiveness of key internal control systems to understand and test the authenticity of specific sales revenue.
2. Check the transaction documents of specific sales revenue, including shipping documents and payment documents, etc., to confirm that the significant risks and rewards of product ownership have been transferred to the buyer.
3. Check the specific sales revenue and payment collection after the sales period to confirm the rationality of the sales revenue recognition.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audits resulting in this independent auditors' report are Youling Cai and Jianliang Liu.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Shareholders

AV TECH CORPORATION, LTD.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of AV TECH CORPORATION, Ltd. (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries, which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the “consolidated financial statements”).

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Company and its subsidiaries as of December 31, 2025 and 2024, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Auditing and Attestation of Financial Statements by Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company and its subsidiaries in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The key audit matter identified in the consolidated financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 2025 is described as follows:

Authenticity of specific sales revenue

The Company and its subsidiaries for the year ended December 31, 2025, the operating revenue from specific customers of electronic materials is significant to the overall operating income. Therefore, the authenticity of the operating revenue from such specific customers is listed as a key verification item.

For explanations of accounting policies related to sales revenue, please refer to Note 4 to the consolidated financial statements.

The main verification procedures that this accountant has performed on the authenticity of the specific sales revenue mentioned above are as follows:

1. The design and implementation effectiveness of key internal control systems to understand and test the authenticity of specific sales revenue.
2. Check the transaction documents of specific sales revenue, including shipping documents and payment documents, etc., to confirm that the significant risks and rewards of product ownership have been transferred to the buyer.
3. Check the specific sales revenue and payment collection after the sales period to confirm the rationality of the sales revenue recognition.

Other Matter

We have also audited the parent company only financial statements of AV TECH CORPORATION, Ltd. as of and for the years ended December 31, 2025 and 2024, on which we have issued an unmodified opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and IFRS, IAS, IFRIC, and SIC endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company and its subsidiaries ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company and its subsidiaries or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company and its subsidiaries financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statement

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company and its subsidiaries internal control.

3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company and its subsidiaries ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company and its subsidiaries to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audits resulting in this independent auditors' report are Youling Cai and Jianliang Liu.
